

Owlicious at a Glance

Owlicious is a short, interactive book-like experience for grade one students (children aged 6-7) which aligns with some values from the Ontario Science and Tech curriculum. Students can play Owlicious through their browser, and on Android devices.

Game Activities

Students can play Owlicious at <http://deengames.com> or download it for Android devices.

Several scenes make up the game content. Students can flip back and forth through the content as they wish (there are no levels, goals, etc.). Every scene includes some elements which they can interact with. Examples of interactivity include:

- Supplementary audio information or sound effects
- Clouds that pop
- Regurgitation of an owl pellet

Owlicious can be completed in a few minutes, and can be easily integrated into a classroom session.

Standards Alignment

Owlicious aligns with some values from the Ontario Science and Tech curriculum for grade one:

- Investigate needs and characteristics of plants and animals, including humans (Understanding Life Systems, Overall Expectations #2).
- Demonstrate an understanding of the basic needs and characteristics of plants and animals, including humans (Understanding Life Systems, Overall Expectations #3).
- Demonstrate an understanding of what daily and seasonal changes are and of how these changes affect living things (Understanding Earth and Space Systems, Overall Expectations #1).
- Assess the impact of daily and seasonal changes on living things, including humans (Understanding Earth and Space Systems, Overall Expectations #3).

Islamic Values

Owlicious imparts some Islamic values which are suitable for grade one students:

- Allah (God) provides for all the needs of all creatures
- Gratitude to Allah for His favours and blessings
- The du'a (supplication) after eating

Accessibility

Owllicious contains some features that make it easier for young students to use:

- Large sized text for easy reading
- Simplified vocabulary for better comprehension
- Audio reads along with the text so new readers can participate too

Feedback

We hope you find Owllicious fun and engaging. Please send any feedback (positive or negative) to alibhai.ashiq@gmail.com.
